Why did people not buy from me in the past?

You might have made one of these mistakes:

- 1 Not giving people a heads up of what is coming so there is no build up in anticipation or momentum.
- 2 Not making an offer, or only making it once or twice, out of fear it won't work, then giving up and moving on to the next tactic. You can't expect sales to just happen on their own.
- 3 Overwhelming them with too much information, thinking the value was in the information and not in the transformation or connection. Free info is everywhere!
- 4 Speaking to the freebie seekers rather than the buyers.

MEET YOUR COACH,
Christina Tandali

“Love what you do, get paid what you’re worth and still have time for the rest of your life”

I’m a confidence boosting, cash-creating Business Growth Strategist for coaches, consultants, and course creators who want to grow a wildly engaged and highly profitable Facebook group.

I started my business from ground zero while on maternity leave from my corporate job. Within 10 months I crossed my first 6-figures... and handed in my resignation. Woo hoo!

But the truth was... I’d get a few clients here and there and then nothing, a dry spell. I’d stress about where my next paying clients would come from and it took a toll on my family.

Once I learned a predictable cashflow strategy my business flew past 7-figures (hello scalability) and I was able to work with my dream clients.

Now I’m on a mission to help 1000 entrepreneurs become millionaires!
